Darlyne is a public relations specialist. She also has a background in strategic planning and implementation across a broad spectrum of industries, including nonprofit agencies, financial services, electronics, manufacturing and material handling. Most recently, she served as Director of Marketing/PR for ESCC. Prior to that, she was a Communications Consultant with Fidelity Investments in Covington, KY. Previously, she ran her own PR consulting agency and was Manager of Corporate Public Relations for Litton Industries in Hebron, KY, and Chicago.

Volunteerism is very important to Darlyne. Nationally, she is a board member of the Executive Service Corps-United States and serves on the Community Outreach Committee of Public Relations Society of America. Locally she is active with Life Learning Center, Covington and serves on the Communications Committee of Women Helping Women. Her past community activities include CASA for Pro Kids, Bethany House, Hospice of Northern Kentucky and STOP AIDS Board Secretary.

ESCC Experience

Darlyne volunteered on the project team for Life Success Seminars and Learn 21. She has served as a public relations subject matter expert on several client projects, including Matinee Musicale and Cincinnati Behavioral Health Services. She has also taught public relations in the Freestore Foodbank Institute, and has served as a coach for the Nonprofit Leadership Institute and EXCEL.
