

Fred Joffe

Volunteer Consultant
Board of Trustees

Joined ESCC: 1999

ESCC

10945 Reed Hartman Highway, Suite 108
Cincinnati, OH. 45242
Phone: 513.791.6230

Professional History

- Procter & Gamble

Education

- Ph.D., Food Science, Rutgers University
- M.S., Agricultural Engineering, Michigan State University
- B.S., Food Technology, Michigan State University

Fred is experienced in product development, consumer research, strategic planning, management development, financial analysis, and coaching. He retired from Procter & Gamble as Director of Paper New Product Development following a 37-year career with the company.

Fred serves on the board of director's compensation and personnel development committee, plans and policy committee, and executive committee of Talbert House, as well as on the board of directors of Northern Hills Synagogue.

ESCC Experience

Fred serves on ESCC's Board of Trustees, Executive Committee, as well as its Strategic Planning Committee. Fred's project work has concentrated heavily on strategic planning, management development, performance appraisal, organizational analysis for improved effectiveness and efficiency, visioning for creative futures, and analysis of school data to improve academic performance. On a recent assignment, he was project manager to Cincinnati Clovernook Center for the Blind and Visually Impaired. Fred has also taught classes on outcomes and strategic planning.

We strengthen nonprofits to reach bold community goals.