Len's core expertise is in product sales, marketing management, and in branding strategies with a particular focus on social media tools. As regional sales director with CARS Information Systems Inc., he marketed proprietary software and turnkey systems for higher education matriculation systems. He also served as business development manager with ITI Manta, a contract engineering and proprietary software firm.

Len believes in giving back to the community. He led Six Sigma training seminars for the Job Search Focus Group of Cincinnati. He further assisted the organization with the implementation of social media strategies. Len served two terms as board member on the Catholic Men's Fellowship.

ESCC Experience

Len completed ESCC's training in strategic thinking, board development, and coaching. He also attended special ESCC workshops in interviewing for quality results and social media and marketing. He helped develop the innovative plan that led to the integration of back office functions of the Jewish Federation, Jewish Community Center, and Jewish Family Service. He also assisted in the development of UC-Clermont College's strategic plan.

We strengthen nonprofits to reach bold community goals.
